CONTACTS AND COMMUNICATIONS

See my instructor's bio on Canvas. Please contact me via canvas email.

I will log on to the classroom nearly every day. Please feel free to contact me on an individual basis, please email me on canvas, and I will try to reply within 24 hours during the weekdays. (I have a family, and I may not be available on the weekends) Your communication is important to me!

My office hours are posted on the top. I will hold my office hours also online. You can use Zoom link that is posted in canvas.

CANVAS HELP

You can call 408.864.8969, or write to onlineeducation@deanza.edu. Here's the website for technical help: <https://www.deanza.edu/online-ed/help.html>

ONLINE CLASSROOM AND PROCEDURES

The Announcements area of the classroom that you see each time you log in will be used on at least a weekly basis to post updates and comments on class matters. Please check the announcements at least once a day. I often address important issues there, like common mistakes, misunderstandings, occurring questions, etc. The instructor will also email the class to remind students of important due dates.

HOME AREA ON CANVAS

This is the first place you should check. It shows what you need to do in a week. What we're learning this week is a short document that summarizes all the tools and tricks we will be covering. Please watch headline shows the lecture videos for the week. To do headline is the area where you see the work that you have to perform that week. Announcements will also be visible in the top area.

MODULES

The Course Materials area (MODULES), arranged in folders by week, houses the content for the course. Weekly lecture materials will be unlocked to students 3 or 4 weeks in advance on Sundays at 11:59pm, almost on midnight. You will have 7 days to complete the lecture videos, assignments and discussions. The grades will be posted when the assignments due date passes, within a week. Please note that your discussion assignments are set in a way that you will have one week to do your assignment and about 3 days to respond to 2 fellow students' work. Once the due date for the responses pass, your instructor will evaluate the work and your responses within a week. Lecture videos will be available moving on forward, but assignments will be closed once the due date passes. If you are going to be late submitting your work, please reach out to me so I can extend the deadline for you.

GRADING POLICY & CRITERIA

Final Grade in course is based on the following:

Weekly assignments: 10 percent of grade, 1 points each week, due Sundays at 11:59pm.
 Participation: 30 percent of grade, 3 points each week. 1 point for the work that is well done, and 2 points for responding to two classmates' work in a well thought out comment. You will have 7 days to create the work and post, 2 days after that 7 days to post your comments. You can always submit earlier.

Two Milestone Assignments: 20 percent total, 10 percent each milestone assignment. Milestone assignments will be due around week 4 and week 9.

MidTerm: 20 percent of grade. It will be due on week 7.

Final Project: 20 percent of your grade. It will be due at the end of the term.

Final Grading Scale

100-93	A	82-80	B-	69-60	D
92-90	A-	79-76	C+	59	F
89-86	B+	75-70	C
85-83	B

Project Grading Scale

100-93	A	82-80	B-	69-66	D+
92-90	A-	79-76	C+	62-60	D
89-86	B+	75-73	C	59	F
85-83	B	72-70	C-

EXERCISES AND PROJECTS:

Students will receive a brief for every project. Weekly assignments and discussions are intended to support your learning. More important assignments have larger points attached to them. There will be 2 Milestone assignments (each 10 points), Midterm with the prep work (20 points), and Final (20 points). Weekly competency assignments are 10 points combined, and discussions 30 points combined. Handouts will include a project outline, milestones, and due dates. Some weekly work and discussions are designed to help you break up the work and are important they are done on time. All projects will be discussed, explained, and demonstrated in videos. Projects may include the following: Analog Collage, Photomontages, Personal Narrative, Editorial Collage.

ASSIGNMENT DUE DATE POLICY

Weekly assignments have a 2-day grace period, and discussions have a 2-day grace period. I expect all discussion submissions and feedback entries to be done by the end of the grace period. If not submitted during this grace period, you will lose the opportunity to submit the work. I do not accept emailed assignments for grading. Do not email me your work for me to grade; it will not be graded unless it is submitted on Canvas.

Please refrain from negotiating grades with me. As a teacher, I adhere to a fair assessment process where grades are earned based on merit rather than subject to negotiation. Keep in mind that grades are earned through your performance, and it is my responsibility to evaluate and assign them accordingly.

If you anticipate that you will be unable to submit milestone or midterm assignments, it is crucial to communicate with your instructor. Please notify your instructor at least 24 hours before the due date, explaining your circumstances and providing relevant details. Under no circumstances will I open assignments so you can submit them if the grace period has ended and you have not communicated to me in a timely manner. This policy is designed to provide a productive, fair, and transparent framework for assignment submissions. No exceptions. If there is a legitimate reason for failing to submit the weekly work, timely communication with paperwork is necessary. If you have any concerns or foresee challenges in meeting deadlines, proactive communication is critical to finding a solution.

COMMUNICATION

Life's unpredictable events touch us all. In order for me to offer you the best support possible, prompt communication is essential. It falls upon the student to inform the instructor about their needs; this is the expectation in a college setting. Without timely initiation of communication, your instructor won't be aware of your needs.

Delaying the communication of your needs until the final stages of the semester places a considerable burden on your instructor, and it is unacceptable. If you encounter challenges or circumstances affecting your academic progress, please inform me promptly. It's important to understand that, in the interest of fairness to all students and due to logistical constraints, requests to revisit or submit assignments from more than two weeks prior cannot be accommodated under ordinary circumstances. Exceptions may be considered in cases of a family death or severe illness, with the expectation of timely communication in such instances.

These rules and policies are here to make our learning experience the best it can be. As your teacher, my goal is to help you learn and succeed. When everyone follows these guidelines, it creates a classroom where we can all focus on learning without any hiccups. Think of it as teamwork – when we all play our part and follow the rules, it makes everything run smoothly. Your cooperation in following these guidelines means I can spend more time teaching and helping you. It's a way we can work together to make sure our class is a positive and effective place for learning. Feel free to talk to me if you have questions or concerns about these rules. I'm here to help!

Students must turn in work on canvas, or on google drive, as instructed, clearly labeled and organized. Naming convention is very important. Please name your projects as: last-name_firstname_projecttitle.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY POLICY

Students are expected to follow and adhere to the college's academic integrity policy per the student handbook. This policy clarifies topics such as student responsibilities, dishonest, and plagiarism. All students should become familiar with this policy, which can be found at: <http://www.deanza.edu/studenthandbook/academic-integrity.html>
